

Online Launch: The Deal We Always Wanted A Feminist Action Framework for the Digital Economy

Global South Women's Forum 2020
15th December 2020, 21.00 to 22.30 (Malaysia Time, UTC+8)

A ROADMAP FOR FEMINIST ACTION

The intent is to trigger a productive, cross-movement dialogue on the urgent imperative to promote and popularise feminist macroeconomic perspectives on the structural transformations that digitalisation and datafication has wrought on the global economy. The organisers hope to identify specific issue-areas for global-to-local collaborative action between feminist organisations, labour rights activists, global trade justice advocates, and pro-democracy coalitions.

Presenting the Framework for Action:

Anita Gurusurthy and Nandini Chami, IT for Change

With Comments by:

Anna Tuvera, ITUC Asia Pacific

Sofia Scasserra, World Labor Institute UNTREF

Discussants:

Gita Sen, DAWN

Mariama Williams, South Centre

Moderated by:

Natalia Figge, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung

In the current context, where digital, platform and data technologies have catalyzed a paradigmatic shift in the global economy we need to move the dialogue beyond empowering access and use cultures instead, examining how we can reclaim the project of feminist economics in this new context.

After one year of rigorous research, debate, and deliberation on Feminist Visions on the Future of Work, a global group of eight feminist scholar-practitioners synthesised their critical analysis of emerging trends in the global digital order into a feminist action framework for a gender-just digital economy.

The Deal We Always Wanted: A Feminist Action Framework for the Digital Economy, will be launched before a community of Southern feminists.

For more details about the session, please click here. To register, please click here.

Please visit the following link to find out the time in your time zone. The event will be held in English.

The session will be live streamed on YouTube on the IWRAP Asia Pacific channel for participants who are not able to register in advance to attend the sessions in person.

The session will also be available on the IWRAP Asia Pacific YouTube channel as a recording for individuals who were not able to join us live during the sessions.